To Parents of Girls in Year 11

Mock GCSE Examinations: Spring Term 2012

Mock GCSE examinations take place between Monday 9 January and Wednesday 18 January. When a girl does not have an examination she may study at home, if you have given your permission by signing this form. Please ensure that the relevant details are inserted below and the form signed. Please return it to your daughter's form tutor by Monday 12 December. If it is not returned by this date I will assume that your daughter will be studying in school and does not have permission to be at home. The Library will be available for private study throughout the examination period. Girls may go home once an examination has finished. They must, however, remain in school during the day if they have examinations in the morning and afternoon sessions. Girls will be registered before each examination and must be here in good time.

The girls will need to revise over the Christmas holidays but I hope they can also find some time to relax and enjoy themselves, they've had a busy term!
